STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Oil and Gas Regulatory Authority (OGRA) has been established under the Oil and Gas Regulatory Authority Ordinance, 2002. Section 3(8)(a) of the Ordinance ibid provides that the Chairman shall be appointed by the Federal Government for an initial term of four years and shall be eligible for reappointment for a similar term.

2. However, the process for the appointment of a regular Chairman, OGRA is very time-consuming. It entails inter alia: advertisement of the position with a minimum period of 15 days for submission of applications; detailed scrutiny of applicants' credentials to shortlist eligible candidates; comprehensive interviews of the shortlisted candidates; and finally, placement of a panel of candidates before the Cabinet for its consideration and appointment of one of them as the Chairman of the Authority. Furthermore, the time that is likely to be taken from advertisement of the position to the appointment of the Chairman cannot be predicted. For instance, if all the applicants are found ineligible or unsuitable, the whole process must be repeated. It may be noted that previously, the appointment process for the Chairman, OGRA was initiated in 2020 and concluded in 2021 since the position had to be re-advertised for the reason that the Selection Board could not identify a suitable candidate.

3. In consideration of the above noted factors and in order to prevent the Authority from becoming dysfunctional pending the appointment of a Chairman through the normal selection and appointment process- as has been experienced recently, when the arrangement made by designating one of the members as Vice Chairman to act as Chairman, under Section 3 (13) of the Ordinance ibid, left the Authority rudderless- the amendment in Section 2 (ii) and Section 3(8)(a) of the Ordinance ibid to provide for an effective interim institutional arrangement have been proposed.

4. The Bill titled "The Oil and Gas Regulatory Authority (Amendment) Bill, 2026" has been designed to achieve the aforesaid objectives.
